home deliveries outside of south australia

To make sure that we can seamlessly drop wine on to your doorstep.

And following further discussions with our freight contractors. Generally, "leave wine at door if no-one home" is fine provided you are happy with the security of wine so left. If you feel that there may be security or other problems, best to call us with your order and discuss delivery. Delivery to a work address generally presents no problems.

Do not accept delivery of damaged cartons. The freight contractor's own policy is NOT to deliver damaged goods, but to notify us. We will replace immediately any wine damaged in transit.

hard to decide...?

Order a mixed dozen – try all the wines – decide what you like best then order a few dozens of your favourites.

a dozen a bit too much?

Half Dozens available for some wines as shown on the order form.
