TASTING NOTES:

The 2005 Shiraz Wrattenbully, was the first red wine from our new source vineyard at Joanna, (S.E. of South Australia).

The wine was bottled early in March 2007 and was released at the end of April 2007.

Some black pepper and slightly 'earthy' characters typical of the region, are already evident, as are ample complex berry flavours.

When released the wine was quite approachable early on, and has now shown nice development in the past 2 years, and will also improve significantly with further bottle age over the coming years.

Grapes from the vineyard, on the famous terra rossa over limestone soil, were picked ripe from a low yielding vintage (2.0 tonnes/acre), and have spent over 12 months in both new and aged French Oak.

Drink now to 2012/13.
