Vineyard	Ann Atkinson, Eden Valley
Grower:	Ann Atkinson
Alc/Vol:	14.5%
Grape Variety:	100% Shiraz
Oak:	Over 12 months in aged French Oak

TASTING NOTES:

This new release Shiraz is from vines grown by Ann Atkinson, whose vineyard is also the source of our high quality Rieslings over the past four years.

The wine is an interesting, peppery Shiraz, displaying all the mineral soil characteristics typical of Eden Valley reds. Matured in aged French oak barriques, this wine is a classy Shiraz at a “non classy” price. Mature, semi-dryland vines with limited yield have given the wine fruit intensity and flavours. Excellent drinking now, and has the scope to develop further with bottle age and proper cellaring.

A “great value” wine, we believe this Shiraz will be as successful as our 2002 and 2003 Shiraz under screwcap.

TASTING NOTES:

‘soon’

New release in August, 2008

Adelaide Hills has developed a growing and well-deserved reputation for high quality, cool climate white wines, and in particular Sauvignon Blanc.

This wine is the first Sauvignon Blanc from our new source vineyard in the Adelaide Hills.

A typically aromatic Adelaide Hills Sauvignon Blanc, the wine is a crisp, clean dry, (but not “bone dry”) wine with tropical fruit aromas and flavours with hints of citrus/lemon acidity and a clean finish.

The wine will develop nicely with some bottle age, further enhancing the fruit aromas and flavours.
